DEADPXLZ Season-2 is a web-based interface application accessible at <https://season-2.pxlz.org> (also referred to as the "Platform") operated exclusively by DEADPXLZ.

This Privacy Policy sets out the terms of processing personal data within the Platform.

1. PERSONAL DATA THAT DEADPXLZ PROCESSES

In order to enable you to use the Platform, DEADPXLZ will receive your public Cardano blockchain address (starting with "addr1", the "Address"), and information about your transactions on the blockchain with the Address ("Transactions"), which, in certain circumstances, may be considered personal data. DEADPXLZ collects and process your Address when you connect your digital wallet (ex. Nami Wallet) to the Platform. When you make a Transaction to the Platform, we process information about such Transaction.

2. HOW DEADPXLZ USES YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We use the Address and information about Transactions to enable you to use the Platform. The legal basis for processing your Address and information about your Transactions is the necessity for the performance of a contract between you and us.

The only mandatory personal data required for use within the Platform is already publicly available on the Cardano blockchain. Optional information processed by the Platform includes usernames and avatars which are public to all Platform participants.

In some case, when you choose to interact with third-party software, services or tools, your Address or certain information regarding your Transactions may be transferred to such third-party software, services or tools, respectively.

3. PERSONAL DATA AND BLOCKCHAIN

Please kindly note that your Address and information on your Transactions will be used within the Cardano blockchain, which is out of DEADPXLZ's control. This means that due to the structure of the Cardano blockchain, certain data protection rights or abilities may be limited. It also means that your Address and information regarding your Transactions may be freely accessed by any person who has access to the Cardano blockchain. Please learn more about personal data and the blockchain on the official Cardano webpage, <https://iohk.io>.

4. PURCHASES ON THE PLATFORM

All purchases that you make on the Platform will be processed and validated by DEADPXLZ and then submitted onto the Cardano blockchain. Each valid purchase made on the Platform grants you the underlying non-fungible token (PXLZ). Upon processing a valid transaction, DEADPXLZ waives and fully transfers the copyright to the respective non-fungible token along with its underlying assets as well as the token itself to the Address that the valid transaction was made from. Successful transactions are non-refundable. Any potential refunds caused by a malfunction of the Platform will be made in full.
